POCAHONTAS ASSESSMENT

Assessor at Marlinton Decreases Some and Increases Other Valuation of Property.

HALLANAN PLAN IS BEING CARRIED OUT.

Real estate assessments have been increased 70 per cent in the aggregate in Pocahontas county districts and 41 per cent in the City of Marlinton this year, according to a statement issued by Tax Commissioner Hallanan yesterday.

"In following my instructions relative to the valuation of property," Hallanan said, "the assessor has found it necessary in one district of Pocahontas county to decrease some properties as much as 85 per cent while increasing others as high as 68 per cent.

"An assessment on the basis of 'true and actual value' in this district means that if the same amount of money is raised as last year the levy will be decreased 41 per cent plus. It is therefore obvious that the man whose property has been valued, having to pay taxes at the reduced rate of levy, is really benefited to a greater degree than would appear at first sight.

"Before a man would be required to pay as much as he did last year his property would need to be increased 70 per cent. Consequently in those cases in which property has been assessed at even 60 per cent of its actual value no increase in taxes collected will occur.

"There can be no argument successfully advanced opposing the increase which will ensue to those whose property has been materially raised in value upon the land books. Their gross undervaluation in former years has been a matter of rank injustice to other property owners in the county and the new valuation simply operates to place these properties on a parity with other real estate without in any way penalizing their owners for former evasions to comply with the statute requiring that all property, both real and personal, be returned to the assessor at its 'true and actual value'."—Charleston Gazette.

THOSE GRAVES IN FRANCE

We have been shown a letter from France written by one to whom was sent a copy of our Dumb Animals, in which was the suggestion that the great cemeteries in France, marking the resting places of our American soldiers, should be so treated as to make them bird sanctuaries. This letter to which we refer says:

"I am in perfect sympathy with the idea of making these cemeteries attractive to the birds, so that these fine songsters of France will find sanctuary in the vicinity of our sleeping boys.

"The Government is already planning to make these cemeteries very beautiful with all that landscape gardening can add to the natural beauty of the surrounding fields.

"One is even now impressed with the multitude of skylarks which are nesting in the wheat and poppy fields adjoining the cemeteries—for example, at Belleau Wood. Sometimes the air is filled with their song, which is seeming to be carried from Belleau Wood to the very gate of Heaven"—Our Dumb Animals.

Commissioner's Notice

M. C. Carter, Guardian of Louie N. Bare vs L. S. Cochran, Administrator of J. M. Bare, deceased.

To whom it may concern:

Please take notice that on Friday the 16th day of June, 1922 at my office in the town of Marlinton, West Virginia I will proceed to take state and report the matters of account referred to me by decree of the Circuit Court of said county entered on the 8th day of March 1922; as follows:

First—The amount of money that came into the hands of said L. S. Cochran, administrator of J. M. Bare.

Second—The distributive share of each of the children of the said J. M. Bare after settling with the said administrator.

Third—A settlement of the accounts of the said L. S. Cochran as such administrator.

At which time you and each of you may appear and prove such debts as may be due you from said administrator and do whatever else may be necessary to protect your interests in the premises.

Given under my hand this 10th day of May, 1922

N. C. McNEIL,
Commissioner in Chancery.

FARM BUREAU NOTES

The Pocahontas County Four-H Camp will be held at the Fair Ground August 28th to September 2nd. The State Four-H Camp will be held at Jackson Mills in Lewis county as follows: June 19-29 State Four-H Boys' Conference; July 7-17, State Four-H Girls' Conference. The State Four-H exhibit will be held in connection with the West Virginia State Fair at Wheeling September 4, 5, 6, 7, 8, 9, 1922. The various leaders of club work in the county have the Four-H Fair premium list.

A regular meeting of the Pocahontas County Farm Bureau will be held at the Farm Bureau office May 27, at two o'clock p. m. B. F. Green, Extension Beef Cattle specialist, will be present at this time and will address the meeting. Methods for more effective putting across the plan of work as adopted by the local Farm Bureau for the year 1922 will be discussed at this time, and other important matters will be brought before the meeting.

Soy beans are being planted more extensively in the county this year chiefly due to the light hay crop of 1921.

The West Virginia Pulp & Paper Company owns a registered Scotch Type Sire of Avondale breeding that is considered to be one of the best of the breed. It is well worth anyone's trip to see this animal, because he sets a standard in type in this county that any breeder of cattle will do well to work as a goal.

E. L. Shaw, Extension Sheep specialist, met with bad weather for his sheep shearing and wool handling demonstrations. However, many meetings were held in various sections of the county, and Mr. Shaw adapted his work to the weather. It is certainly a caution to have him explain the various parasites that are killing thousands upon thousands of sheep in West Virginia and then post one sheep and find all of the worms mentioned. Mr. Shaw says that sheep-growers call it hard luck and it undoubtedly is. Nevertheless, there is a very satisfactory remedy for stomach worms, perhaps the most bothersome parasite disease, that is being used with success in this county. (Copies of this treatment can be obtained from the Farm Bureau office at Marlinton.) Mr. Shaw also chloroformed sheep that were affected with lung worms.

Perhaps one of the most important factors brought out in the wool handling demonstrations was the tying of the individual fleeces with a good grade of paper twine. Mr. Shaw explained that each fleece had to be graded separately by the manufacturer and that the farmer would eventually benefit by putting his wool up in good form. Paper twine may be obtained from the Wortendyke Mfg. Co. Richmond, Va.

The use of Docking Irons was recommended for lambs from ten days to two weeks of age, and that experiments proved that practically as good results were obtained from docking and castration at the same time.

Mr. Shaw introduced many useful and up-to-date methods that the local sheep grower can well adopt. However, the laymen should follow directions in order to secure the best results, and should not lose sight of the fact that the little details are the things that really count most.

Commissioner's Notice

Pursuant to a decree of the Circuit Court of Pocahontas County, West Virginia rendered in a cause therein pending in which the State of West Virginia is plaintiff and Clara C. Fertig and 41 acres of forfeited land are defendants, the undersigned Commissioner in Chancery will proceed at his office in the town of Marlinton, West Virginia, on Friday May 26th, 1922, to take, state and report to Court the following matters of account, to-wit:

First—Whether or not the above tract of land consisting of 41 acres has been omitted from the land books of Pocahontas County for taxation since the year 1897, or for a period of five years since said date, and prior to the institution of this suit.

Second—Whether or not there is any person or persons entitled to redeem the said tract of land, or any part thereof, and whether or not any person is in a position to take the benefit of the forfeiture.

Third—Any other matter deemed pertinent by the Commissioner or required by any party in interest.

W. A. Bratton, Commissioner.

Commissioner's Notice

I, D. C. Adkison, Clerk of the Circuit Court of said county do certify that the above named Special Commissioners have executed bond as required by said decree.

D. C. Adkison, Clerk.

TAXATION

"Taxation, without representation is Tyranny," said one of our greatest statesmen.

"Freedom of speech and freedom of the press shall not be denied to any citizen" is what our constitution declares, and what I am going to say may not appeal to some people, but they are undeniable facts. Our taxes are high and still going higher. Why? Simply because we have a bunch of high salaried officers paid more now than they deserve, and who are still clamoring for more. Look, if you please, what it costs the taxpayers of this little mountain state of ours to maintain her government. Take for instance the salaries of the officers from the Governor down. It represents a ridiculous sum of money: do the people get value received? No! Seventy-five per cent would pay them well for all they do. Consequently the people would be relieved of a part of their taxes if the salaries were cut twenty-five per cent, and that is what I favor.

Just a word in regard to our new assessment. This is an old farce, "raise the valuation and lower the percent."

We have had experience of this kind in the past; these sayings have proven to be untrue. I have no faith in it. I do not favor the new tax system simply because the law provides that land must be assessed at the price that it was last sold for. Possibly it was sold during the war period when prices were inflated. So the assessment of that land would not be fair and equitable at that kind of price today.

The people have no say as to how their money is to be spent; is that not tyranny? To be sure it is.

I would suggest that the taxpayers hold a meeting at an early date to discuss the situation and to formulate plans whereby our taxes may be lowered.

I would like to hear from other citizens through the columns of this paper.

Yours Respectfully,
A. A. S.

Elizabeth M. Lightner, wife of Wm. Lightner, died at her home at Greenbank, April 1, 1922, with the infirmities of old age. She was 91 years, eight months and twenty-four days old. She was a good christian for years, and a good neighbor. She leaves to mourn her loss one nephew, W. H. Woodell, and one niece, Mrs. Cora Sutton, of Greenbank, and many other friends. Her pastor, Rev. John Rosenberger, conducted the funeral services. She was laid to rest beside her husband in the family burying ground. Many of her friends were present.
